Consumer Notes:

Now that the two big conventions are past us, we can look forward to the promised new product shipping over the next months (or years, in some cases). The biggest news is perhaps Manga Entertainment finally officially announcing the acquisition of the Evangelion movies, and Anime Village announcing their new DVD strategy (anything on DVD from Bandai in Japan will be released here) certainly adds to the speculation that DVD will be the preferred distribution medium as time goes on. Meanwhile, this month will see the release of the first new Bubblegum Crisis TV episodes, the third Tenchi Muyo movie and Outlaw Star from Anime Village. We fully expect the latter to be right up there with Lain in terms of popularity! Also sure to be big is the subtitled release of the Sailor Moon movies! Dubbed versions and DVDs are coming next year.
